THE SELF-INSTRUCTING MODEL ENGLISH GRAMMAR By JOHN A. MCROBERT, of Tennessee.

We are indebted to the author of this new Eng lish Grammar, for a copy. It is just issued, and will speedily be on the shelves of our booksellers as a candidate for public favor. The author is well known in this State as a teacher of English Grammar, having been for many years engaged in that profession in Pulaski, and for five years past in Memphis. He offers, therefore, the fruits of experience, as well as study, in this work. His princi pal object has been to present a "Manual of English Grammar, in which its principles are methodically arranged, and rendered easy of comprehension by simple and appropriate exercise;" and it has that, with proper application on their part, they may obtain a knowledge of English Grammar without further assistance." In these respects, as far as we are able to judge from a necessarily superfi- Public; cial examination, we should say that the book is eminently successful. We trust that teachers and students, everywhere in Tennessee especially, will Chattanooga. give this book, as the work of a Tennessean, a fair examination and trial.

W. T. Berry & Co. will have the work for sale.

They estimate the present population of the Territory at 25,000.

GREAT AMERICAN VICTORIES! To our neighbor of the Banner, we are indebted for the following despatch:

In our regular issue this morning, we published a telegraphic despatch announcing that the American Party had achieved a decisive victory in Massachusetts -having elected GARDNER, as Governor, and carried the Legislature.

In New York, also, the Americans have achieved a splendid triumph—carrying the City by THIR-TEEN THOUSAND majority, and the State by TEN THOUSAND. For this gratifying intelligence we are indebted to a friend in New York who has transmitted to us the following despatch:

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 1855. City, 13,000 American majority. River counties 3,000. Whole State promises at least 10,000 maority, though the middle counties are heavily the other way.

NEW YORK, NOV. 7. Partial returns show the Americans have 45,000, Fusion 30,000, Softs 31,000, Hards 24,000. The City has been carried by the Know Nothings by a handsome majority. Partial returns from the interior indicate that the State is also gone for the Americans. The contest is between the Americans and Republicans, but large majorities in the cities show that the former probably cannot be overcome.
